

An aerial photograph of a vast, turbulent sea. The water is a deep, dark greenish-blue, with numerous white-capped waves and ripples across the surface, indicating strong currents or a storm. The horizon is visible in the distance under a pale, overcast sky.

GAVIN PRETOR-PINNEY

Kleine Wellenkunde für Dilettanten

ROGNER & BERNHARD